Ridge Acre, Longlands, Marden, Herefordshire, HR1 3ES

LOCATION

Ridge Acre is located in an area known as Longlands and sits on a slight ridge in glorious countryside which facilitates the property having exceptional views across undulating Herefordshire countryside to the ranges of The Welsh Hills in the far distance. The property is located about five miles north of the outskirts of the Cathedral City of Hereford, north of Sutton St Nicholas and is easily accessible to the range of amenities available in Marden and Bodenham. Neighbouring villages combined offer educational establishments, churches, village shops, community halls and public houses and countryside walks are within easy reach. Hereford as a whole offers a wide range of shopping, leisure and recreational facilities together with educational establishments and both bus and railway stations.

DESCRIPTION

Ridge Acre is an individually designed 1960's dormer style residence which is both centrally heated and double glazed. With an added porch to the front the property opens to an entrance hall off which there is a cloakroom, bathroom and first bedroom with doors then opening to the south westerly facing sitting room through to the dining room with each having open views, including to The Welsh Hills in the distance. From the dining room a door opens to the re-fitted kitchen and on the first floor there are two further bedrooms and a shower room. From the landing the best view is enjoyed over glorious countryside.

As mentioned before the house is set just above the village road and is approached over a block pavior driveway which runs to the garage and parking and at the rear there is an extensive garden area, with the whole site extending to just over a third of an acre. To fully appreciate the wonderful plot and its position in the surrounding countryside the agents highly recommend a viewing to appreciate all that this fine home offers.
